

To whom this may concern,

I am writing on behalf of Vijay Siddharrth in regards to his professional musical expertise. Vijay and I recently collaborated on “The Lost Tribe of Africa”, a short documentary funded by the National Geographic Society. His musical talents provided beautiful music composing for a documentary that’s now being shared across National Geographic’s 45 million viewers world-wide.

Vijay’s collaborative skills and work ethic made it a creativity fulfilling experience to work with him. His ability to pay attention to detail, composing knowledge and effective leadership made this experience as professional and artistic as possible.

I am confident any project that has Vijay involved moving forward will be well-scored and highly professional. I believe with his confidence and genuine creativity his musical ear can advance any media arts project. If you need to contact me, please feel free to reach out to my email at ashastuartphotography@gmail.com. Thank you!

Best,

Asha Stuart
National Geographic Young Explorer
Filmmaker/Photographer
www.ashastuart.com

